"Come Out of the Kitchen," presented by the senior class of the high school last Friday night, received the approbation of one of the largest indoor audiences that has assembled in Covina, the seating capacity of the new auditorium at the high school being taxed to accommodate those who were fortunate in securing tickets. There were those in the audience who had seen the play on the theater stage and screen, yet thoroughly enjoyed the class presentation. The cast of characters were taken by Laura Shaver, Arline Hotchkiss, Lucetta Bost, Gwendolyn Stead, Thelma Thurman, Leslie Garner, Howard Bull, Floyd Welch, Eugene Ames, Edward Coman, and Emson Knorr.

MATTHEWS CHOSEN NEW PRESIDENT OF VALLEY CHAMBERS

J. L. Matthews, editor of the Covina Argus, was elected by a unanimous vote to the presidency of the Associated chambers of the San Gabriel valley, at the annual meeting of that organization held in the Los Angeles chamber of commerce on Tuesday.

Other officers elected: First vice-president, George E. Cross of Puente; second vice-president, William G. Fields of San Dimas; secretary and treasurer, Charles Bayer of Los Angeles.

A resolution calling for the immediate erection of the San Gabriel dam was offered by Frank Wheeler of Claremont, a past-president, and seconded by Matthews. The resolution read as follows:

"That it is the policy of this association to support the county supervisors in the plans for the erection of the San Gabriel canyon dam as planned by Engineer Reagan at the location as voted on at the bond election May 6, 1924, and that we urge the erection of the San Gabriel canyon dam as soon as possible."

Before the adjournment of the directors a rising vote of thanks was extended to the retiring president, Robert Neely of West Covina, for his unselfish and successful work during the past year.

Matthews, who has been on the firing line during every big flood which this county has experienced for the past thirty years, in accepting the presidency declared:

"Flood control is the work of the loyal, unselfish men and women in Los Angeles county. It cannot ever be the basis of a monument to the work or genius of any one individual, for it has been made possible only through inter-community endeavor."

Matthews, who has been on the firing line during every big flood which this county has experienced for the past thirty years, in accepting the presidency declared: "Flood control is the work of the loyal, unselfish men and women in Los Angeles county. It cannot ever be the basis of a monument to the work or genius of any one individual, for it has been made possible only through inter-community endeavor."

"The idea of associating the chambers of commerce of the San Gabriel valley," said Mr. Matthews, "was an inspiration that has brought about more real and constructive results for the valley than anything before or since conceived. To a large extent the organization has succeeded far beyond the expectations of its most enthusiastic boosters. Today there is an affiliation between all communities that is wholly voluntary and only nominally binding, but which, because of its splendid policy of 'one for all and all for one' has cemented the valley in all things where the common good is at stake."

This organization is composed of twenty-one chambers of commerce, covering the entire east end of Los Angeles county, including Alhambra, Arcadia, Azusa, Baldwin Park, Claremont, Covina, Duarte, El Monte, Glendora, La Verne, Monrovia, Monterey Park, Pomona, Puente, San Dimas, San Gabriel, Sierra Madre, Temple, West Covina, Whittier and Wilmar.

PUBLIC INVITED TO INSPECT NEW SCHOOL

The new science building of the Covina union high school is open for inspection today (Friday). Students will be on duty to conduct visitors through the building at any time after 2 p.m.

The closing assembly meeting of the student-body was held Wednesday afternoon, Principal Ben S. Millikan giving a short talk. The boys' glee club gave several selections, and the oral English class presented the play, "Dinner at Seven Sharp." The officers for the ensuing year were installed.

Miss Grace Pollard, a member of the class of '25, has taken a position as stenographer with the Western San Fertilizer company.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR RILEY ADDRESSES LIONS CLUB

The Lions club entertained at its Monday luncheon District Governor-elect Jack Riley, who addressed the club; also three guests from Monrovia. Two new members were received, Walter Heth and J. H. Pottinger. Miss Frances Evans sang for the club, accompanied by Mrs. Ed Walters. Committees in charge of the construction of the tennis court at the park announced that it would be complete within two weeks.

The accident was unavoidable, both parties doing everything possible to prevent the contact.

AN IMPORTANT CHANGE IN POLICY

STUDEBAKER herewith announces the discontinuance of the custom of presenting a new line of automobiles each year. Instead of bringing Studebaker Cars dramatically up-to-date once in twelve months, we shall keep them up-to-date all of the time—with every improvement and refinement made available by our great engineering and manufacturing resources. This policy not only directly benefits present Studebaker owners, but it also enables purchasers of new cars to obtain models that are always modern—without the necessity of waiting for annual changes, and without the danger of their new cars becoming obsolete.

BACK of this new policy is an amazing story—of interest to everyone who owns or expects to own an automobile.

The dramatic success of the present line of Studebaker Cars is one reason for this important change. Month after month we keep breaking records—sales keep piling up. This year we will sell almost four times as many automobiles as we produced in the big boom year which followed the war.

Owners report endurance records, even beyond our greatest expectations. Out in the rugged mountain regions where Studebaker sells four times its normal proportion of cars, owners talk about these models in the most extravagant terms. In 1924 the Corporation's sale of repair parts dropped to $10 per car per year. Mechanical stamina under severe usage—remarkable performance under the most difficult travel conditions—these are the qualities for which Studebaker Cars have long been noted.

Surely these significant facts prove beyond any shadow of doubt that Studebaker Cars are so soundly engineered and manufactured and so eminently satisfactory in the hands of owners, that drastic annual changes are not required.

Improvements and refinements will be made from time to time. New features will be added. When our engineering department (maintained at a cost of more than half a million dollars a year) devises an improvement in any model, it will be made without regard to the calendar.

As in the past, we shall continue to pioneer vital betterments that have proved their merit through practical use. Alert, aggressive, receptive to new ideas, resourceful in executing them, guided by scientific research and spurred by imagination, the Studebaker organization proposes to build better motor cars than ever before.

Now you may buy a Studebaker on any day of the year with the confident assurance that the sturdy, thrifty, one-profit car you drive away will not be stigmatized by any act of ours as a "last year's model." Today, in even more generous measure than in the past, Studebaker Cars offer the utmost value for the money.

VIOLATOR OF ORDINANCES IS RELEASED ON $700 BAIL

W. H. Burgess, suspected of being in the nefarious business of toting illicit booze, in attempting to play a little game of hide and seek with Marshal Berry last Saturday afternoon, collided with a Ford coupe driven by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wall-bridge of Los Angeles, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Johnson.
Burgess, who was about half "lit," was taken into custody by Marshal Berry and placed in the city jail, after the officer had confiscated fifteen quarts of Gordon gin. The man was brought before Recorder Chapman's court Monday morning on three counts, and plead "not guilty." Trial was set for July 17th and the man was released on $700 bail. As the charges were all in violation of the city ordinances, the bail, if forfeited, will remain in the city treasury.

Another case of bootlegging came before the recorder's court last week, the offender pleading guilty and paying a fine of $150.

COVINA LADY WRITES OF HIGH PRICES FOR LEMONS

Word comes from Miss Grace D.
Outland, who is spending the summer in Cleveland, Ohio, written on the 8th inst., in which she speaks of the extreme heat that has prevailed from June 1st, the thermometer registering from 90 to 100 degrees daily, stating that the extreme heat caused the pavements to explode in a dozen places, endangering the lives of pedestrians and motorists. Thousands thronged the municipal beaches and the parks at night, many sleeping in the open.

Miss Outland says that in June 6th lemons were retailing at 75¢ per dozen and were wholesaling in Warren, Ohio, at $15.50 and in Akron at $18.75 per box. A director of a wholesale grocery firm stated that the wholesalers were anxious to buy their fruit in car lots instead of from brokers, but did not know how to go about it.

Miss Outland believes that the people of the middle west have become tired of Florida and are again turning their eyes to California, and considers the time appropriate for an intensive advertising campaign.

The above prices for lemons quoted by Miss Outland are stated by Manager Foster of the San Dimas Fruit Exchange to be the highest prices that have ever prevailed in the history of the lemon market.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD
FOR DR. O. C. MOON

Funeral services for Dr. O. C.
Moon were held Tuesday morning, June 16th, at 11 o'clock, at Custer & Christiansen's undertaking parlors, amid a mass of beautiful flowers. Rev. Edward Williams of the Presbyterian church officiated. Interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

Dr. Moon succumbed to heart failure at his ranch home on Section Center street on the evening of the 10th, burial having been deterred awaiting the arrival of a son from the east.
Deceased was born in Wilmington, Ohio, in 1856, receiving his early education in the schools of Richmond, Indiana, and taking his degree of D. D. S. at Ann Arbor, Michigan.
He practiced his profession in Oshkosh and Beaver Dam, Wisconsin.
Married in early manhood to Eleanor Parry, two sons were born to the union, Parry Moon, an instructor in the Boston School of Technology, and Roy Moon of Newark, N. J. The former son had been home but two days previous to his father's death, while the latter arrived in time for the funeral.

Dr. and Mrs. Moon had made a host of friends in the Charter Oak community during their four years' residence. Dr. Moon, while of a quiet, retiring disposition, was very highly respected for his genuine kindness to all with whom he came in contact.

After remaining on the ranch during the summer, Mrs. Moon will return to the east in the fall with her son Parry.

nior class colors. Refreshments were also in the same color scheme. During the evening the juniors entertained with a play, "The Pot Boil-

OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF
THE HOME TELEPHONE COM-PANY OF COVINA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSIDERING
AND ACTING UPON A PROPO-SITION TO INCREASE THE CAPITAL STOCK AND AMEND THE ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that, pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Home Telephone Company of Covina, duly adopted at a meeting of said Board of Directors, duly held on Tuesday, the 14th day of April, 1925, a special meeting of the stockholders of the said Home Telephone Company of Covina has been called and will be held at the office of said corporation, to-wit: Home Telephone Company of Covina Building, No. 124 East College street, Covina, California, (the same being the principal place of business of the corporation and the building and room where the Board of Directors of said corporation usually meet), on Friday, the 17th day of July, 1925, at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m., of said day, for the object and purpose of considering and acting upon a proposition to increase the capital stock of said corporation from two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars, divided into four thousand (4,000) shares of the par value of fifty ($50) dollars each, to six hundred thousand ($600,000) dollars, divided into six thousand (6,000) shares of the par value of one hundred ($100) dollars each, of which three thousand (3,000) shares thereof shall be common capital stock and three thousand (3,000) shares thereof shall be preferred stock, which preferred stock shall have the following incidents, characteristics and preferences, differentiating it from the common capital stock:

(a) The holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to receive from the surplus of net profits of the corporation when and as declared by the Board of Directors, dividends at the rate of 7% per annum, and no more, payable quarterly, semi-annually or annually, on such dates as shall be determined from time to time by the Board of Directors. The dividends on the preferred stock shall be cumulative and shall be payable before any dividends on the common stock shall be set apart or paid, so that if in any year dividends amounting to 7% per annum shall not have been paid on the preferred stock, such deficiency shall be paid before any dividends shall be set apart for or paid upon the common stock.

(b) In the event of the dissolution, liquidation or winding up of the corporation, (whether voluntary or involuntary) the holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to receive the par value of their respective shares, plus all accumulated and unpaid dividends thereon, before any assets shall be applied to the common stock, but upon payment of the preferred stock the preferred stock of the par value of their respective shares and accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, all remaining assets shall belong to and be distributed to the holders of the common stock.

(c) The said Home Telephone Company of Covina may at its option, redeem and cancel any number of the said preferred capital stock shares then outstanding, at any time after two years from the date of its respective issue, by payment to the holders thereof of the par value of each share, plus all accumulated and unpaid dividends thereon, plus a premium of 6% upon such principal, if redeemed within the first ten years from the date of its respective issue, and if redeemed thereafter, the premium to be paid upon redeeming each respective share shall decrease one-fourth of one per cent each year.

The shares to be so redeemed and cancelled shall be designated by the Board of Directors, and thereupon notice of the proposed redemption shall be given to each interested stockholder of record at his place of business or residence, but if both said places be unknown, then the notice shall be addressed to the stockholder at Covina, California.
Notice is required to be given to stockholders of record only; where one holds stock by assignment, notice need not be given to him, but the stockholder of record to whom the company's books shall be given the notice as herein provided for. Said notice shall be given at least thirty days prior to redemption date, shall state the number of shares to be redeemed belonging to the respective stockholders to whom the notice is addressed, and that an amount of cash equal to the par value, plus dividends accrued to date of redemption and unpaid, together with the premium which each respective stockholder is entitled to receive for his respective stock, will be on the redemption date in the treasury of the corporation, subject to such stockholders' order, and that thereafter his rights as stockholder under any such stock designated in said notice shall cease. If such notice has been given, no dividend shall accrue or be declared after such redemption date on stock so designated for redemption, unless the corporation shall fail to redeem such stock in accordance with the terms of such notice.

And also for the purpose of considering a proposition to change the capital stock of this corporation from fifty ($50.00) dollars par value to one hundred ($100.00) dollars par value; and also to consider the proposition of making all of the stock of said corporation, when fully paid for, non-assessable; and also for the purpose of considering the amending of the Articles of Incorporation of the corporation, so as to show each and any of said propositions which may be passed or considered at said stockholders' meeting and adopted by the corporation, according to law, and also for the purpose of transacting any other business connected with or relating to the said matters, and any other business that may be properly brought before such meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors,

The first modern carpet mill on the Pacific coast will shortly be erected at Keeney Grove, four miles west of Covina, and will be known as the Scott-Hughes Carpet Mill.

Our Aim

IN EVERY MANNER POSSIBLE we will meet you half way. So far as stores are concerned, the manufacturers make the same stuff for Broadwell and for Bullock. There is no end of the rainbow. The larger stores get as much for goods as anyone. They do not show much more than we do.

If you were as smart as Solomon you couldn't beat the game. You've got to spend your money somewhere. It's useless if you couldn't spend it.

For myself, I take pleasure in spending it where they know me—and you'll get more pleasure and more actual value where they know you.

Try it!

CITY EASE—

Beyond the Car Lines

EVEN in the country you can have city cooking convenience. A good oil cook-stove's intense flame, fast as gas, is heat concentrated! That means a cool kitchen—and no fires to tend. Noiseless, simple, safe!

The kerosene to use should be the highest grade only—Pearl Oil—especially refined and re-refined for use in oil cookstoves and heaters; Pearl Oil burns clean—no smoke—no odor—the air stays sweet and pure. Pearl Oil won't corrode the metal parts of your oil cookstove.

"Kerosene" or "coal oil" may mean any kind of kerosene; insist on Pearl Oil—by name!

a big success

THIS is a message to the teachers, the parents and the boys and girls themselves.

WE are proud of the community trust and confidence that has been demonstrated. Proud, too, of the opportunity that has been ours to work with the young folks in their first systematic saving.

IN the success of the plan is the inspiration to strive always to meet fully and helpfully the needs of our community.

Looking Ahead

There is no doubt but that those carefree individuals who take things as they come with no thought of tomorrow are by far the happiest people on earth, yet I often wonder how far this old world would have progressed had it not been for those who try to look ahead and in a way build for the future.

There are, I believe, altogether too many persons who never look forward or backward, but always live in the present. They neither know nor care what the future has in store for them. Many of these persons will tell you that they are not interested in agriculture—that the business of farming is nothing to them and as far as they are concerned it matters not whether farmers succeed or fail—yet these same persons wail at the top of their voices when meat, butter, eggs or vegetables make any considerable advance in price.

Were they to take that interest in agriculture that its importance to them, as individuals, merits, they would learn something of the reason for these price fluctuations and why food prices are usually high following a season or two of extremely low prices. They would learn that the farmer, like everyone else, is in business for the profit there is in it and that when the profit fails to materialize he must change to something else, thereby reducing production to a point where demand exceeds supply and higher prices again rule.

In other words, whenever an agricultural depression is suffered by the farmers of the country the consuming public, later, pays for such depression in advanced prices for those products most affected.

Why then should not every consumer be interested in agriculture? Why should not everyone want to know something about why food prices fluctuate so violently at times and also more about the spread between producer and consumer—just how much of the consumer's dollar reaches the producer?

While such knowledge might not directly help agriculture, we believe it would be the means of creating a more favorable impression on the part of the city consumer toward the farmer and indirectly be the means of bringing about greater cooperation between producers and consumers to the end that both might work together to reduce that great spread which now requires that the consumer pay three dollars for every dollar's worth of produce that the farmer sells.—Cultivator.

Social Code for Great Open Spaces

The last word on "etiquette," on which so many treatises have been published during the past few years, is "Outdoor Good Manners." As usual, the author is a woman, in this instance being Mrs. F. E. Whitley of Webster City, Iowa, a conservative leader in America.

If Mrs. Whitley's etiquette of the outdoors was strictly observed, a great step forward would be made in conserving the natural beauty of countryside and forest. Discussing the obligations of those who enjoy the prodigality of nature's loveliness, Mrs. Whitley says:

"What return a guest owes for hospitality is a question which might well be asked of any party of gay picnickers starting off for a spring day in the country. No guest who has been entertained at a friend's dinner party would raid the decorations, yet how many who have eaten their sandwiches and cake on a carpet of wild flowers bear off great armfuls of blossoms plucked up by the roots? How many who have rejoiced in the welcome shade and grateful peace of the woods leave that place defaced and besmirched?"

To mar the home of an individual is to injure the property of one person; to desecrate trees or flowers or anything that belongs to the great outdoors is to destroy that whose beauty and comfort belongs to all who may have the good fortune to behold it.

Let us hope that the time is not far distant when one's good breeding and thoughtfulness will be gauged quite as much by his conduct in the great out-of-doors as by his observance of the social conventions of everyday life.

Vacations and Motoring

The value of motoring in its relation to education has never been fully realized, according to a writer in the National Automobile club weekly. Here in California there are limitless opportunities for the employment of motor travel as a means of stimulating the mental processes of the adolescent. The mind of the average person is susceptible of emotional reactions and it is this fact that offers a wide field for cultivation. "Home-keeping youth have ever homely wits," declared Shakespeare, and travel of all kinds has always been looked on as a means of culture and mental development. It widens the vision, fosters the ideas of democracy and arouses in the mind a sense of proportion too often lost in a narrow environment where the relationship of man and Nature does not have its proper emphasis.

The imagination, if properly cultivated, results in a consequent increase in the power of the reasoning faculties, the quickening of perception, and it awakens the interest of the individual in the outside world. For this reason it develops the qualities of unselfishness, while at the same time it increases the scope and power of knowledge.

Take the children along when you are exploring the historical landmarks of California; cultivate the interest of your sons and daughters in the background of story which lies behind the landmarks of this remarkable state.

A S SURE AS TAXES

Citricola is just as sure to be in your citrus grove this season as taxes are to come due next December. And if you don't fight Citricola and other pests successfully, tax day will be a harder strain than ever.

Right now is the time to get after these insect profit-takers. There is one commercially sure and successful means of control.

SPRAY WITH TRIUMPH

mixed with Orchard Brand Lime Sulphur and Kayso, according to our patented formula

Our entomological staff will gladly give you facts and figures which you can prove yourself. Its members will be glad to advise you as to the proper adaptation of spray materials and the correct scientific principles to be followed in citrus spraying.

Thousands of acres of California citrus groves, yielding fruit grading 80 per cent to 90 per cent fancy and better, are testimonials to the efficiency of Balfour, Guthrie and Company's TRIUMPH citrus spray combinations—imitated but not equaled.

Don't guess, don't gamble—investigate! The pests are busy—don't delay.

Write to our nearest office for a copy of our spray bulletin. Upon request one of our entomological staff will gladly counsel with you—entirely without obligation on your part.

Don't be Content with Hearsay Praise of Chandler Performance —a ten-mile ride will astonish you!

YOU have heard a great deal about Chandler performance.

You know that a Chandler broke all speed and stamina records when it sped 1000 miles in 689 minutes; that not even specially designed cars have been able to reduce Chandler's record-breaking dash to the top of Mount Washington.

You have heard that you can't clash gears in a Chandler——that the smoothness and getaway of the Pikes Peak Motor is no less pronounced than its power——that in comparative quality of coach work, the Chandler-Fisher bodies rank with those of any car built.

We invite you to verify all this. We urge you to accept our offer to provide you with a demonstrator any afternoon or evening.

You have definite ideas of motor car values and one ride will make you a Chandler enthusiast.

"I'd as soon turn in my dog"

"Turn her in? Why should I? That old Ford is as good as she ever was. Since I switched to that new Zerolene 'F' for Fords she runs like a clock and seems to have a bit more power too."

Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to all the bearings requiring lubrication—especially the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls that are frequently oil-starved when an unsuitable lubricant is used.

It deposits a minimum of carbon, and because it lubricates better, enables the engine to develop a considerable margin of power over and above what you're accustomed to expect from your Ford.

And it costs not more, but less than most of the special Ford oils now on the market.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last Sunday evening the auditorium of the high of the churches and friends of the school, all eager to participate in the baccalaureate exercises for the graduating class.

The large class approached the seats reserved in the front of the auditorium from the two sides to the processional march played by the high school orchestra. The audience joined in the hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord." The high school chorus sang "The Heavens Are Declaring" (Beethoven), and sixteen members from the boys' and girls' glee clubs gave "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own."

Supervising Principal Ben S. Millikan introduced the speakers of the evening. After invocation by Rev.
S. J. McConnell and scripture reading by Rev. C. G. Mosher, Rev. Geo.
G. Elder, pastor of the Christian church, delivered the class sermon on "Christ's Answer to Life's Great Question."

Choosing as his text Matt. 6:33, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you," Rev. Elder appealed to the students to follow an ideal, declaring that the true ideal of life was answered by his text. He held before the graduates consecration to the principles of the Christ, stating that the individual who endeavors to run counter to the will of God Almighty will find the whole universe against him; concentration in the upbuilding of character along the lines of integrity and benevolence, holding that character is primary—and that wealth, power, position are secondary. Rev. Elder closed by appealing to the young men and women to subscribe to the divine order of things closing with the words: "All is yours—the rich heritage of the past the golden opportunities of the present, and the glorious possibilities of the future." After the singing of "America" the audience was dismissed by Rev.
Nicholson.

Mrs. H. A. Murphy of Los Angeles was a visitor with friends in Covina on Tuesday.
